It is arising from grief.

Those final moments when you can cry no more to reach a dawn of acceptance.

The opening rhythmical percussion enveloped by the birds call to nature draws you into a soothing, relaxed state, while the musical soundscapes, that include the gentle sounds of the piano and electronic samples lifts your spirit. Dora's softly sung, rich, passionate words and her simple vocals transform the listener into a meditative, blissful state.

The Last Tear, sung in Dora's mother tongue in just over 3 minutes long, ignites feelings of harmony & unity.

Dora's vocals are truly a mantra of love. Connect with your emotions to arise from the depths.
